Everyone welcome!

Which issues should be priorities when so many seem urgent?
Which activist groups should we support?
How can our community organize to be most effective?
How can we manage associated stress?

This series brings together speakers from government, the Indigenous community, activist groups, and healthcare to share their views on a feasible path forward. Please join us to share ideas and discuss possibilities, and take positive action.

Nov. 16 - Pat Morden presents: The Importance of Trees

Nov. 23 - Daniella Kricper represents the Lake Huron Centre for Coastal Conservation, and Mickey Gurbin gives the Psychological Effects of the Climate Crisis

This is a free event. Mike Ash (indabush@hay.net) will send out a Zoom meeting link to members and friends 2 days before. If you are not sure you are on our contact list, let him know and you will be added.
